FRESH FRUITS & VEGETABLES SECTOR

Benefiting from a strategic geographic position and climatic diversity, Türkiye is among the few countries capable of producing a wide array of fruits and vegetables throughout the year. Centuries-old agricultural traditions on Anatolian soil, combined with modern technologies, support the delivery of high-quality fresh produce to international markets. Production regions such as the Aegean, the Mediterranean and Marmara enable the staggered harvesting of crops including lemons, cherries, grapes, tomatoes, peppers, pomegranates and apples across the country.

According to FAO data, Türkiye is a world leader or among the top five producers for several commodities such as cherries, apricots, figs, pomegranates, quinces, grapes and tomatoes. Fresh fruit and vegetable exports amounted to USD 3.4 billion in 2024 and reached approximately USD 1.7 billion in the first six months of 2025. Principal export destinations include Russia, Iraq, Germany, Romania, Ukraine, Poland and Bulgaria. Exports to East and Southeast Asian markets have gained momentum in recent years. The most exported products comprise lemons, mandarins, tomatoes, grapes and cherries.

Member companies of the Istanbul Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Exporters Association implement sustainability, quality and traceability principles at every stage from production to export. International certification schemes such as GLOBALG.A.P, GRASP, ISO 22000, BRC and IFS are applied to ensure food safety from farm to table. Integrated pest management, good agricultural practices and environmentally responsible production methods are followed to promote environmentally friendly cultivation.

At modern packing facilities, products are processed using calibration and barcode-based traceability systems and are dispatched through hygienic cold chain arrangements. Pre shipment inspections, residue analyses and product labeling are performed in compliance with the regulations of destination countries. Products can be customized in terms of size, packaging and composition.

THANKS TO COMPETITIVE PRICING, PRODUCT DIVERSITY AND LOGISTICAL ADVANTAGES, THE FRESH FRUIT AND VEGETABLE SECTOR OF TÜRKİYE CONSTITUTES A RELIABLE SUPPLIER FOR BUYERS WORLDWIDE.

Members export not only products but also food safety practices, sustainability and long term commercial partnerships.

- We are proud to be Türkiye's first modern greenhouse heated using energy recovered from industrial chimney emissions. In our eco-friendly project, steam at 90–110°C from the Kaleseramik factories located 4.5 km away, is transferred through a closed-loop pipeline to efficiently meet our heating needs. Built on previously unproductive rocky land, our facility practices soilless agriculture using sustainable coconut husk. Benefiting from the clean air and pure water of the Kaz Mountains, we irrigate our crops with water drawn from our own well, ensuring healthy and high-quality production.

As global agricultural land declines due to climate change and unsustainable practices, we focus on producing food that is healthier, tastier, and more hygienic through technology and innovation. We use no chemical pesticides or hormones—thousands of bees and beneficial insects naturally support pollination and pest control. With 95% of our year-round workforce made up of women, we proudly support female employment. Our environmentally and socially responsible approach was recognized in 2019 with the Sustainable Business Award in the SME Waste Management category.

CANNED PRODUCTS

CANNED PRODUCTS SECTOR

The seasonal diversity of production in Türkiye provides a robust foundation for the canning industry. Tomato pastes and derivatives, vegetable preserves, jams, marmalades, pickles and olives are processed so they stay available to consumers throughout the year.

Canned product exports exceeded USD 1.34 billion in 2024 and reached over USD 565 million in the first six months of 2025. Principal export markets include Germany, the United States, Iraq, the United Kingdom, Italy, the Netherlands, France, Australia, Belgium and Poland. Tomato paste, vegetable garnishes, pickles and olive varieties are among the most preferred items. European demand for naturally preserved, additive-free products has increased, and Turkish firms meet this demand with high quality standards.

Canning companies plan production to make optimum use of the freshest raw materials during harvest periods and conduct processing in technologically advanced and hygienic facilities. Using metal, glass and plastic packaging options, products are presented in formats that conform to the standards and consumption habits of target markets.

Autoclave sterilization, pasteurization and acetic acid treatments extend shelf life safely while products are preserved using natural methods without additives.

Our companies hold certifications such as ISO 9001, ISO 22000, BRC, IFS, Halal and Kosher, thereby demonstrating reliability in international markets, and actively implement traceability and sample tracking systems in production. Labeling and content comply fully with the food regulations of destination countries, thus minimizing legal risk for buyers.

To ensure continuity in the supply chain, operations rely on high capacity warehouses, automatic filling and capping lines, rapid loading stations and traceable logistics systems for seamless shipments. Canned products are also available as private label solutions, enabling buyers to market goods under their own brands.

- The Sagra Group is a corporation doing business in the fast moving consumer products sector. Established as a family company that dates back to 1936, Sagra Group is the manufacturer of Tadelle, Sarelle, Gol and Sagra brands, which are the most important and well-established brands of Türkiye. These leading brands of Türkiye, which continued their activities under the roof of different companies in the past, were included in the OYAK Group in 2021.

Value Added Ingredients, Legendary Tastes Offering Turkey's iconic brands to consumers, Sagra Group does not use trans fats, colorants and preservatives in its products. The sugar used in the products is obtained from sugar beet, the products do not contain sugars such as fructose and glucose, and only contain real chocolate. Instead of nature identical aroma, actual vanilla is used in or products, which makes them different than the other products in the sector.

The company offers natural and healthy products to consumers with Tadelle, a chocolate and wafer brand with lots of hazelnuts and a dense chocolate taste; Sarelle, a chocolate spread and wafer brand; and Gol, a delicious and fun chocolate-covered dragée brand. The nostalgic Sagra Special stores, which left their mark on a period, are reopened to customers as a cafe with chocolate, coffee and ice cream products under the Sagra brand, with its renewed vision and visuality.

Sagra Group, which joined the OYAK Group of Companies in April 2021 and continued its journey to become a world brand, has set a course to rewrite the story of hazelnut and chocolate. In this journey starting from Ordu, the region where hazelnut is most intensively produced, and extends to 65 countries, it reaches both local people and farmers and aims to be the bridge that introduce Turkish hazelnuts to the world.

FROZEN PRODUCTS

FROZEN PRODUCTS SECTOR

Türkiye's fertile lands, diverse climate and substantial agricultural production capacity are the principal drivers of the frozen food industry's development. Prompt processing and freezing of fresh fruits and vegetables preserves nutritional value and ensures year round availability for consumers. A wide range of frozen products is produced domestically, including frozen vegetables and fruits, potato products, bakery items and ready meals.

Frozen fruit and vegetable exports stood at approximately USD 306 million in 2024 and at about USD 150 million in the first six months of 2025. Major export markets include Russia, the United States, Germany, Iraq, the United Kingdom, Italy, France, Canada, Belgium and the Netherlands. Key exported items include frozen strawberries, sour cherries, cherries, spinach, peppers, zucchini, mixed vegetable packs and mushrooms.

Producers in the frozen food sector utilize Individual Quick Freezing IQF technology to freeze products down to -40°C , thereby preserving nutrients, texture and natural flavor. IQF prevents products from sticking together, offering advantages in presentation and usability. Production processes are integrated with internationally recognized food safety systems such as HACCP, ISO 22000, BRC, IFS, Halal and Kosher. From raw material acceptance to packaging and from storage to shipment, each step is monitored under traceability, temperature control, hygiene and cross contamination prevention measures.

The cold chain is essential for maintaining the quality of frozen goods. Exporters from Türkiye deliver products to international customers without loss of quality thanks to high capacity cold storage and shipping infrastructure capable of sustaining temperatures of minus 18°C and below. Türkiye's logistical proximity to Europe, the Middle East and Central Asia further optimizes delivery times and costs.

Frozen products from Türkiye are in strong demand among retail chains, hotels, restaurants and institutional catering services. Producers are open to both branded retail supply and private label manufacturing. With segments such as vegan, gluten free, organic and additive free products, firms can promptly adapt to evolving consumer preferences.

The frozen food sector of Türkiye is expanding its global market share through high quality production, operational flexibility, logistical advantages and competitive pricing. Members of the Istanbul Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Exporters Association provide partners with stable supply, sustainability and dependable long-term cooperation.

SOFT DRINKS

NON-ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES SECTOR

Türkiye's strong fruit production potential underpins the manufacture of high quality natural products in the fruit juice and non-alcoholic beverage sector. Drinks produced from pomegranate, sour cherry, apple, apricot, peach and other aromatic fruits are manufactured across categories such as 100 percent fruit juices, nectars, fruit drinks, flavored beverages and carbonated drinks. Recent trends include no added sugar options, functional drinks and plant based beverages that broaden the product range.

In 2024, Türkiye's non-alcoholic beverage exports were approximately USD 950 million and stood at USD 453 million in the first half of 2025. Major export destinations include the United States, the Netherlands, Germany, the United Kingdom, Syria, Italy, Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus, Libya and Japan. The Middle East and North Africa display significant demand for Turkish juices and syrups.

Natural mineral and spring waters form an important sub-segment of non-alcoholic beverages. Thanks to abundant underground sources and mountainous geography, Türkiye produces bottled waters with notable mineral content. These products are available both as still and fruit flavored options and are preferred in hotels, restaurants and retail. Mineral composition, low sodium content and natural carbonation contribute to their appeal.

Located at the geothermal junction of Europe and Asia, Türkiye has about 225 natural mineral water sources. These sources contain minerals such as sodium bicarbonate, calcium, magnesium and sodium sulfate. Their pH values range from 5.38 to 8.79 and temperatures range from 10 to 27°C, underscoring the country's mineral water potential and geothermal diversity.

Türkiye is also a leading player in fruit juice production. With fruit juice exports exceeding USD 600 million in 2024, the country has established a solid presence in global markets.

Value added products such as apple juice concentrate and pomegranate and black carrot extracts are notable, and the capacity to process more than 25 different fruits supports a broad product mix. Biodiversity and favorable climate conditions are complemented by sustainable agriculture and eco-friendly production infrastructure.

Exporters maintain certifications such as ISO 22000, BRC, IFS, HACCP, Halal and Kosher. Products are adapted to target markets in terms of flavor profiles, packaging and labeling. Automatic filling lines, aseptic packaging and hygienic production infrastructure secure product quality and the use of natural aromas and sweeteners aligns with healthy consumption trends. Recyclable and eco-friendly packaging solutions, low-carbon footprint initiatives and research and development investments make the non-alcoholic beverage sector competitive with healthy and sustainable offerings. Members of the Istanbul Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Exporters Association cultivate strong global partnerships spanning both

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES SECTOR

Türkiye unites long-standing production traditions with modern technology and internationally recognized standards to sustain robust production capacity in the alcoholic beverages category. Diverse climates and fertile soils provide a broad range of raw materials from grapes to anise, affording Turkish alcoholic beverages a competitive advantage in both variety and quality.

Producers operate in facilities certified to quality and food safety standards such as ISO, HACCP and TSE. These certifications ensure that exports from Türkiye are accepted internationally not only for their sensory and cultural value but also for their reliability.

Wine ranks among Türkiye's most notable products. As one of the world's oldest viticulture regions, Anatolia is home to more than 1,200 indigenous grape varieties. This diversity enables distinctive flavor profiles for Turkish wines. Wine exports have recorded steady growth in recent years and substantial efforts toward brand development are under way, particularly in Europe and North America.

Rakı is likewise a central element of Türkiye's cultural heritage. Produced from distilled grape alcohol and anise seeds, Rakı goes beyond being a beverage, symbolizing a unique cultural way of life. Millions of liters are exported annually to European and other markets, with strong demand in diaspora markets and in destinations linked to gastronomic tourism.

Overall, alcoholic beverage exports from Türkiye recorded approximately USD 135 million in 2024 and around USD 60 million in the first half of 2025. The United States, Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands are prominent markets for wine exports, whereas rakı is primarily exported to Azerbaijan, the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus and select European countries. Wine and rakı remain the principal drivers of this category and rising quality standards together with international certifications are enhancing Türkiye's visibility in global markets. By combining tradition with modern production, the country is well placed to strengthen its position further in the alcoholic beverages sector.

INTRODUCTION

- For three generations, Doluca has been a part of the Turkish winemaking industry, reflecting its traditional and innovative character in service and product quality... Founded in 1926 by Türkiye's first oenologist, Nihat Ahmet Kutman -an alumnus of Geisenheim Wine Institute, Germany- Doluca began as a small bottling facility in Istanbul. Kutman introduced international grape varieties such as Cinsault, Semillon, Gamay, Riesling to Türkiye, laying the foundation for a new era in viticulture.

Carrying forward this vision, his son Ahmet Kutman—an alumnus of the University of California, Davis—joined the company in 1967 and still remains as the CEO and Chief Winemaker of Doluca. In his leadership, the brand expanded to 56 labels with a production capacity of 14 million bottles annually. He also lead Sarafin project with Güven Nil in 1998, producing the first varietal wines of Türkiye from internationally known royal grapes Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot. Sarafin product line is still an unmatched success in the Turkish wine business with international awareness.

The third generation continues the family legacy. Sibel Kutman Oral, who founded Doluca's Marketing Department, plays a pivotal role in promoting wine culture in Türkiye. Her brother, Ali Kutman, educated in Napa Valley, drives the company's research and development, focusing on producing wines of exceptional quality. Today, With state-of-the-art facilities like the Çerkezköy Winery, covering 52,000 m², Doluca stands as a beacon of excellence and innovation. Anchored in heritage yet forward-looking, Doluca continues to shape the future of Turkish wine on both national and international stages.

- The Camlica family has been farming in Buyukkaristiran, Luleburgaz since 1935. The first generation of the family immigrated from Kubadin, Razgrad, in northeastern Bulgaria. Kubadin was renamed Loznitsa in the 1930s. The new name means "Vineyard Place" in Bulgarian, referring to the fact that this was the first place where American rootstocks were grown first time in the country.

Mustafa Camlica, a prominent fine wine investor from the third generation of the family to live in Turkey, is the name behind this very ambitious project. The company is named after his daughter Irem Camlica, who also designs all the labels. All the production facilities are in Buyukkaristiran, 120 kilometers west of İstanbul.

INTRODUCTION

- The Ch Kalpak journey began in 1991 in Şarköy (Tekirdağ). We purchased the first parcels in 1992 and the knowledge we gained by visiting more than 100 wineries worldwide was used in the establishment of Ch Kalpak Vineyards in 2003. It took us 12 years to bring together the existing Ch Kalpak vineyard property and to establish the new vineyards in 2003. We planned the vineyards and designed the winery for a single premium chateau wine from a single vineyard. To achieve this, we selected the best rootstocks and clones of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot to suit our soils in the Ch Kalpak vineyards. The unique advantage of this site is that it is open to both the Marmara Sea and the Mediterranean Sea (via the Gulf of Saros) and thus receives the gentle breezes of both seas. We made our first wine in our brand new winery in 2010 and patiently waited for these wines to mature, which were released in 2013. All our red blends are produced from a single vineyard in a gravity-fed facility with the goal of finding the best harmony of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot. Our first release brought us 9 gold medals in European wine competitions and the crowning of Türkiye's "First and Only" "3 star" winery, and the "Best National Producer 2014" award in Türkiye.

KUZUBAĞ

INTRODUCTION

- Kuzubağ Estate Winery was founded in 2007 when we first planted the vineyards in our hometown of Çal, Denizli, Türkiye. Conscious of the region's distinctive terroir and honouring its centuries-old winemaking heritage, we set out slowly to establish our vineyard showcasing indigenous Turkish grapes as well as classic varietals. After patiently waiting 13 years for the vineyards to mature, we embarked on constructing a 3000 square metre contemporary winery discreetly embedded into the landscape at the very heart of the estate. After completion in 2021 we celebrated our first vintage. As a family with deep roots in the land and culture of the region, Kuzubağ aims to respect and connect the vine, the soil and the people. We strive to draw local and international attention to the rich history of our viticulture and highlight the unique character of the grapes in the bottle by producing high quality yet accessible wines.

INTRODUCTION

- The tale of Melen, standing tall as one of Türkiye's oldest boutique wine artisans, unfolds amidst the ancient landscapes of Thrace, where its venerable association with wine dates back to time immemorial. Nestled upon the gusty slopes of the sacred Ganos Mountain, stretching towards the Marmara Sea, the Melen legacy has been meticulously cultivated over three generations. In bygone eras, Ganohora, adorned with monasteries and vineyards, held sway as a significant religious hub, marking an age-old tradition of winemaking.

Melen Vineyards find their sanctuary in the garden of one such monastery. Within this unique terroir, where diverse grape varieties coexist in a harmonious symphony, we encounter an array of indigenous kinds that deeply rooted in this land—Papazkarası, Karalahna, Öküzgözü, Kalecik Karası—alongside globally renowned grapes adapted to the terroir such as Shiraz, Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Tempranillo, Gamay, Semillon, Sauvignon Blanc—a vibrant tapestry of our cultural heritage.

INTRODUCTION

- A pioneer winery and grape explorer, Paşaeli believes in the potential of Türkiye's native varieties and respects the terroir of Thrace and Anatolia. Founded as a wine importer in 1993, the dream of producing our own wines began in January 2000 with a small winery in Kemalpaşa, İzmir. Today, our new winery in Tire produces nearly 300,000 bottles per year.

Dedicated to discovering indigenous varieties and conducting micro-vinifications each year, we proudly saved Kolorko and Çakal from extinction. Kolorko and Yapıncak are recognized in Wine Grapes by Jancis Robinson MW, Julia Harding MW, and José Vouillamoz.

Our vineyards now span 26 hectares, including 40-year-old Karasakız vines, 55+-year-old Yapıncak vines, and 80+-year-old Sıdalan vines, all continuing to root in their original terroirs.

Most of our vineyards consist of old goblet vines, which we respect and preserve, while our new plantations follow the same traditional method. We do not use systemic pesticides or herbicides. We do not irrigate our vines. We strive to minimize vineyard sprays and soil disturbance in line with our sustainability principles. All our grapes are hand-harvested, and most of our red wines ferment with native yeasts. We also experiment with skin-contact wines and naturally sparkling pétillant naturel wines made from indigenous varieties.

Focused on export markets, we proudly distribute our wines to over a dozen countries. As a pioneering winery, we are committed to rediscovering native varieties, unlocking their potential, and cultivating them in their rightful terroirs.

SELENDİ

INTRODUCTION

- Four millennia ago, the Hittites discovered the winemaking wonder of the rich Akhisar soil, 800 meters high in the rolling hills of Western Türkiye. Selendi wines are the aromatic fruit of that ancient tradition fused with two generations of our family's love and labor. With winemaker Andrea Paoletti, we have brought Sarnıç Akhisar's ancient terroir to full-bodied, sustainable life. Selendi is hand crafted and estate bottled, each bunch of grapes carried in baskets to our onsite winery. Redolent of the cool mountain breeze, ancient olive trees and wild berries, Selendi is sophisticated and soaring.

SUVLA

INTRODUCTION

- This region, located between the Northern Aegean and Marmara Seas, has strong terroir characteristics with its proximity to the sea, iodized and resinous air, Karayel winds and clayey soil structure.

The terroir characteristics and historical texture of the region, where organic vineyards were established in 2003, make this region one of the important winemaking centers preferred for viticulture. The lands where the Troy story took place stand out not only with their viticulture aspects, but also with their handicrafts, rich history and different gastronomic products.

INTRODUCTION

- Turasan Vineyards and Winery started its production in 1943 with 3,000 liters, founded by a mathematics teacher, Hasan Turasan. As the first private winery in the Cappadocia region, Turasan is still operating under the management of Hasan Turasan, a third-generation family member. The winery, with a current production capacity of approximately 2 million liters, produces red, white, and rosé wines.

In addition to local grape varieties such as Emir, Narince, Öküzgözü, and Kalecik Karası, internationally known grapes like Chardonnay, Merlot, Sauvignon Blanc, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Syrah are also used in production. To cater to different tastes, the wines are produced and aged in different containers.
